WASHINGTON LETTER.

A NEWSY LETTER FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

Volunteers of War—The New Spanish Minister—The Speakership Contest—An Accomplished Orator—The Civil Service Order.

Washington, June 9, 1899. — President McKinley attended the encampment of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, held at Glen Echo, near Washington, on Wednesday and Thursday. The encampment would have been a dead failure in point of attendance had not a fair crowd of Washingtonians turned out. The first day, which was on the programme as "Virginia Day," was a failure anyway. "Maryland Day," the second, which was attended by the president and a number of prominent men, was a little better, but neither was successful enough to warrant the holding of another encampment in the vicinity of the national capital.

If Col. Henderson could have heard all the good words that have been said of him since it became certain that he would be unanimously nominated by the republican caucus for speaker of the house he would have realized how very popular he is. It is no disparagement of the other gentlemen who were candidates before the sentiment of the republicans of the house was so overwhelmingly expressed for Col. Henderson, to say that no better choice could possibly have been made. He has every qualification needed to make a good speaker, and he is so well acquainted with the merits of all of the old members of the house that he can arrange all the committee assignments before congress meets, or nearly all of them, and being entirely free from pledges to any one he can make his selections strictly upon merit, something that every speaker has not been able to do.

Senator Hanna, whose physician has ordered him to Europe on account of his health, has expressed the wish that he would not be asked to remain at the head of the republican national committee, in the presidential campaign. He says that President McKinley is bound to be triumphantly elected, even if there were no national committee in existence. But, unless Mr. Hanna's health gets a great deal worse than some rheumatic pains, he is likely to be chairman of the committee again, as he admits that he will accept if it is insisted upon, and with the same ticket and the same issue, it will be natural enough to insist on having the same manager who won the first fight.

It doesn't take much to build a rumor in the atmosphere of Washington. Just because ex-Speaker Reed did not send his resignation as a representative to the governor of Maine before leaving for Europe, the Washington rumor-mongers built up a long story alleging Mr. Reed's intention to retain his seat in the house in addition to his membership in that New York law firm. One of Mr. Reed's strongest points is his thoroughness, and thoroughness and that story do not gree at all.

An influential delegation of Missouri republicans came to Washington this week to protest against the intention of Superintendent Merriam, of the census bureau, to give half the census supervisors for the state to the democrats. Ex-Representative Frank, one of the delegation, handled the subject without gloves when he said: "Imagine a democratic census superintendent giving half of the best offices at his disposal to republicans! The thing is absurd. We have not yet reached the political millennium, and when that golden era dawns there will be no further need of opposing parties. Until then it is but natural and right for the party in power to administer the government, and it can do so most effectively through the agency of its partisans. Missouri is a state in which the republican party needs encouragement from the national administration. In its total of republican ballots it comes next after Pennsylvania and Ohio. Under such conditions we do not believe that the democrats are entitled to share in the offices, which, if given them, will be used for party purposes in the campaign of 1900. It is chivalrous not to exterminate a foe, but I fail to see the wisdom of giving your enemy a club which he may use for your own destruction." A number of protests have been received from republicans of other states against the division policy, but so far as known that policy has not been changed, but the president has it under consideration.

Col. George R. Peck, a prominent western railroad man, said of sentiment in his section: "The almost universal sentiment of the western country is in favor of sustaining the policy of President McKinley. Even those who are opposed to the idea of colonial possessions are patriotic enough to say that the circumstances of the case forbid our leaving the Philippines, for to do so would make us the laughing stock of the nations. The great body of American citizenship is in hearty accord with the McKinley administration on this question, and all the Atkinsons of the land couldn't swerve this honest mass, who are the bone and sinew of the republic. And any party that attempts to make political capital by adverse criticism of the administration's course will be ground to pieces, as it deserves. In such times as this the president is the leader of the whole people, and to take issue with him on any pretext is un-American and unpatriotic."

THE TINKER REUNION.

A Tinker family reunion with but one Tinker present would seem a paradox in the category of family events, but such was the gathering that occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Perkins Wednesday, June 7. The anomaly arose from the fact that the family name is apparently becoming unpopular—rising generations evincing a decided backwardness in assuming it. That the family is far from being extinct, however, is evidenced by the fact that over eighty members, in good standing, participated in the occasion.

Dinner was served on the lawn and concluded with responses by E. H. Perkins, George Mathew, Rev. H. P. Richards, Mrs. E. Campbell and Rev. Uri Richards, a song by Flossie and Francis Perkins and J. T. Hazen, and recitations by Roscoe Campbell and the Misses Clara and Alma Campbell. Justice Tinker, of Cleveland, delivered an address on the genealogy of the family, tracing it back to Thomas Tinker, of Mayflower fame. A business meeting was had, at which officers were elected for the ensuing year and arrangements made for the next annual reunion, and the rest of the day was spent in target practice and social amusements.

Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. Uri Richards, of Union, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Asa Reynolds, and Mr. Frank Shunk, of Massillon, O.; Mr. Henry Fisher and Mrs. Byron Smith, Toledo, O.; Rev. H. P. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Justice Tinker and Mrs. Jennie Horton, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Mary Cole, Hinsdale, Mass.; and Mrs. Amelia Hewett, Pawlet, Vt.

OBERLIN KINDERGARTEN TRAINING SCHOOL.

The class of '99, of the Oberlin Kindergarten Training school celebrated their class day in a very interesting and characteristic manner. The exercises were held in the First church chapel on last Saturday afternoon. The rooms were filled with friends of the class, excepting the most central space, which was reserved for the marching and games.

The exercises followed the form of an ordinary morning in the kindergarten, except that there was no work done at the tables; and more songs were sung than would be used in a single day in kindergarten. These songs were a special feature of the day and were well chosen as representative ones. Some were soft and sweet; some were merry, rollicking trade songs and finger plays.

Mrs. Charles Morrison presided at the piano. She has given the girls training in "songs" all through the course.

Two short stories were given by senior girls during the "morning circle" period.

The marching and skipping were extremely pretty; many fancy steps were introduced and were gracefully executed by the young ladies. Both the senior and junior classes participated in the exercises.

THE DOW TAX.

The Collection for June—The Number of Saloons Increasing.

The Dow tax collections for June are now all in, and as a result $21,505.77 has been added to the funds of the county, divided as follows: North Amherst, nine saloons, $1,575. Avon, six saloons, $1,050. Grafton township, one saloon, $175. Grafton village, four saloons, $700. LaGrange, two saloons, $350. Elyria, twenty-eight saloons, $5,900. Lorain, seventy-four saloons, $12,200.77.

Before the discovery of One Minute Cure ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now.

TO WELLINGTON.

An Electric Road Will Be Built This Summer.

It is now practically assured that an electric line from Oberlin to Wellington will be built this summer, and that it will be fully equipped and in operation by fall. The Reporter obtained this information from a gentleman who knows whereof he speaks, but who declined for the present to allow his name to be mentioned.

Several years ago the right of way for an electric line between Oberlin and Wellington was secured by two well-known men, who at that time contemplated organizing a company to build and equip a line between those two towns. But after the C. B. E. & O. decided to build to Oberlin the plan was abandoned, but the right of way is still held by the Oberlin parties. Recently the C. B. E. & O. people secured an option on this right of way, which they still hold, and the probabilities are strong that they will build the road, but if they do not, as soon as their option expires the Lorain & Cleveland people stand ready to buy it, in fact have offered more for it than the C. B. E. & O. is to pay—and this latter company will begin work just as soon after securing the right of way as possible.

It is more than probable, however, that the C. B. E. & O. will build, as the line to Wellington would be an excellent feeder for the Cleveland line. If the C. B. E. & O. Co. build, a large power house will be built at Oberlin of sufficient capacity to operate an extension of the line to North Amherst the following year.

If the L. & C. Co. builds to Wellington, the line will be extended from Lorain to North Amherst, then to Oberlin and Wellington, with power houses at North Amherst and Oberlin. The right of way between Oberlin and Wellington on which the C. B. E. & O. has an option is considered quite valuable, as it is on private land nearly the whole distance.—Reporter.

Backache should never be neglected. It means kidney disorder which, if allowed to run too long, will result in Bright's disease, diabetes or other serious and often fatal complaints. Foley's Kidney Cure is guaranteed for kidney disorders. W. H. Tissot & Co.

WE HAVE SOME.

Town killers are classified into separate bunches as follows:

Those who go out of town to do their shopping.

Those who are opposed to home enterprises and endeavor to crush them.

Those who imagine they own the town.

Those who deride public-spirited men.

Those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves.

Those who oppose every movement that does not appear to benefit them.

Those who seek to injure the credit of individuals.—Oberlin Tribune.

THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

It is just a year since the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road inaugurated its celebrated Pioneer Limited passenger train service between Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Minneapolis. This service marked a new era in the railway world in the line of passenger accommodations. At a cost of a quarter of a million dollars that progressive company furnished the traveling public, in its Pioneer Limited train, comforts and facilities the best ever produced. This train has been described many times in newspapers and magazines, but should be seen and examined to be appreciated. In beauty of finish, richness and elegance of furnishing nothing equal to it has ever been attempted by any other road.

The car builders were nearly a year in completing the Pioneer Limited trains (there are two—one leaving Chicago for the west and the other leaving the Twin Cities for the east every evening in the year) and they stand to-day a monument to the builder's art. No regular passenger train service in America is as well known as the Pioneer Limited. From the standpoint of passenger traffic the past twelve months have been the most successful in the history of the St. Paul road, made so very largely by the Pioneer Limited. The patronage of this service is a striking illustration of the fact that the public appreciates a good thing.

LESS LITIGATION.

Law Suits on the Decrease in Lorain County.

Elyria, O., June 9.—Litigation is on the decrease in Lorain county. People are settling their troubles without recourse to law nowadays. County Clerk Washburn said Tuesday that as many petitions used to be filed in a day as are filed in a week nowadays. This is especially true of foreclosure proceedings and the decrease is credited to the prosperous times. On Tuesday but one petition had been filed during the past week. This was a prayer for divorce.

James B. and Lucy Garner were married May 1, 1892, at Cleveland, O. They have three grown-up sons and one daughter. James has commenced suit for divorce against Lucy on the ground of wilful absence for three years, last past.

The case of Margaret Hogan vs. John Douns, of Carlisle, heard before Judge Nye some time ago, was decided last week. Mrs. Hogan is a relative of John's, and when she came to live with him some time ago she brought $600 with her. They went to the bank, and while she sat down to rest John stepped up and deposited the money in his own name. John says there was an agreement whereby he was to get the $600 for supporting and giving her a home, but she denied such an understanding and wanted the money. The court held with Mrs. Hogan. The Savings bank was ordered to pay the money over to her and the costs of the suit were thrown onto John.

The case of William Pulaski, of Berea, charged with burglary, was heard this week. Pulaski climbed into a switch shanty and stole tools, it was alleged. He pleaded intoxication as an excuse, and the jury acquitted him. There were a number of prisoners in the jail at the time. Among them were: David Heavens and Fred West, indicted for larceny; Bart Hudnell and Frank Davidson, indicted for breaking into Joseph Jacobs' house on East Broad street; and A. Kenney, charged with larceny. Prosecutor Thomas thought that if the jury would acquit Pulaski, in view of the evidence against him, that there would be no use in trying these others, so the cases against these five prisoners were nolle and the county will be saved the expense.

The case of Van Barnoir, the Wellington man charged with selling liquor in violation of the law, was heard by the jury Tuesday and Wednesday. Wednesday noon the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The criminal work will be concluded this week, when the jury will be discharged and equity cases will be heard by the court. It is thought that the entire docket will be cleared up by July 4.

Robert H. Baird, of Wellington, yesterday pleaded guilty to selling liquor to minors. Another count for selling liquor contrary to law was nolle. The liquor was sold to some Oberlin boys.

The jury was discharged yesterday, the criminal work all being cleared up. On Saturday the prisoners will be sentenced and equity cases assigned.
